The A Rocha Family

We are part of the global A Rocha family. Our name comes from the Portuguese for 'the Rock'. This is the name that was given in 1983 to the family's first ever field study centre, located in the Algarve, Portugal.

ABOUT A ROCHA

AUSTRALIA

Our vision

A world where nature flourishes as people live equitably and sustainably.

Christians in Conservation since 1983

Our mission

To live out God's calling to care for creation and equip others to do likewise.

What we do

We are a Christian organisation caring for God's creation through:

practical site-based nature conservation work enabling and resourcing individuals and churches to be faithful stewards of God's world encouraging an appreciation of nature, and its place in a life of vibrant faith through environmental and theological education.

Some highlights

- In collaboration with Wilderlands, Cassinia Environmental and the Traditional Owners of the land, we help protect and conserve 14 endangered species at Mount Sandy in South Australia.
- Together with the Friends Of Escarpment Park, we help clear invasive species from the Toowoomba escarpment forests, Queensland.
- In Victoria we run "WildLife" day camps with Scripture Union, introducing all ages to the wonders of God's creation.
- We advise schools, colleges, venues, and campsites on how to manage their land to benefit wildlife and increase biodiversity.
- We speak to churches, schools, and colleges about the Christian basis for creation care and seek to resource them.

Our Commitments

We follow Jesus Christ, who created the world and calls us to care for it.

We protect and restore nature and are committed to local places and people over the long term.

We celebrate the insights, perspectives and solutions offered by our diverse cultures.

We invest in good relationships through our commitment to God, one another, and the wider creation.

We seek to work with anyone who shares our vision.

"Let everything that has breath praise the Lord." Psalm 150:6
